Regular and Chaotic Dynamics

Editor in Chief: Prof. V. V. Kozlov, V. A. Steklov Mathematical Institute, Russian Academy of Sciences

Associate Editors: Profs. A. V. Borisov, I. S. Mamaev, Institute of Computer Science.

Regular and Chaotic Dynamics is a quarterly peer-reviewed international scientific journal published in English. The journal was founded in 1996 by the Moscow State University, Moscow Centre of Continuous Mathematical Education, and Udmurt State University. Starting from the first issue of 2000 the journal is published jointly by Turpion Ltd, and the Department of Mathematical Sciences of the Russian Academy of Sciences in close cooperation with the Institute of Computer Science, Izhevsk. In 2004 the V. A. Steklov Mathematical Institute, RAS became a cofounder of the journal. The journal publishes only original research results on nonlinear dynamical problems, arising in mechanics, physics, mathematics and other fields of science.
